

NELSON TRAUTMAN

Design + Development

I am a designer and web developer who is interested in clarity, simplicity, and beauty. I care about consistency and details. I do work in all media, but focus most of my energy on responsive web design. I am from Los Angeles. I went to Seattle University, where I earned a degree in Philosophy, before moving to Chicago in 2007, where I live and work today.

I create these things:

Responsive Websites
Mobile Websites + iOS Apps
Marketing Emails
Direct Mail
Advertisements
B2B Print Collateral

I use these tools:

HTML5 + CSS3
Javascript + jQuery
PHP
Wordpress
Adobe Creative Suite CS6
Axure RP
OmniGraffle

I have done freelance work for:

The Chicago Tribune
RedEye
Chicago Shopping
435 Digital (an Agency)
HardHatHub.com
Organizing For America (Barack Obama)
uBid.com
RedTag.com
and many others

I used to work fulltime for:

Field Trip Factory (an Agency - kind of) for about 2 years
Mekus Tanager, Inc. (an Architecture Firm) for about 2 years and other places that are not particularly relevant

I also:

Brew beer
Ride my bike a lot
Speak Japanese poorly
